So Writes Woman After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Jamestown, N.Y.—"I was nervous, easily excited and discouraged and had no ambition. Part of the time I was not able to sit up, but I suffered with pains in my back and with weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the liquid and tablet forms, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash for inflammation. Today I am real well and run a rooming house and do the work I recommend your medicine to every woman who complains, and you may use my letter to help any one else. I am passing through the Change of Life now and I keep the Vegetable Compound in the house, ready to take when I feel the need of it."—Mrs. ALICE D. DAVIS, 203 W. Second St., Jamestown, N.Y.

Often semi-light derangement may cause a general upset condition of the whole system, indicated by such symptoms as nervousness, headache, lack of appetite and general weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine for such troubles. In many cases it has removed the cause of the trouble.

Today the posters are going out to advertise the show. Kenneth McLellan, local artist employed in Santa Ana, drew the design which "boys are very proud of."

In the background is the Sahara desert with the pyramids and other atmosphere. In the foreground is the river Nile on whose bosom there rides a barge upon which may be seen two beautiful Egyptian women of the King Tut vintage. Upon the head of one of these women is a basket of Valencia oranges. Beneath is the slogan "Citrus Gems in Egyptian Settings."

Fraser said that the tents would be pitched on the large acreage near the corner of Lemon and Cypress streets and that in all the orange show would occupy five acres.

Miss Artz suffered a severe nervous breakdown about eight weeks ago and has been unable to attend school regularly since that time. She will be greatly missed from her various work in the different organizations.

It will be necessary to secure a new pianist for both the glee clubs and for the regular twenty-minute singing period after the dinner hour. Her absence will also leave vacancies on the baseball team, on which she is a veteran pitcher, and also in the orchestra where she plays the violin. Miss Artz was also a forward on the girls' basketball team and was one of the best and most consistent point winners on the local lineup.

TUSTIN, May 1.—Miss Thelma Artz, prominent member of the high school student body, and active in almost every activity in the school, who has been sick for some time is now up and around, although it is improbable that she will return to school this year.

The finished product should contain about 75 pages, and will be one of the most finished and up-to-date year books published by any high school. It has been necessary for the staff to secure aids, as it was found that about $125 was needed before the work could be carried out.

DECISION AS TO ANAHEIM'S POSTMASTERSHIP DEFERRED

Whom do the residents of Anaheim want for postmaster? Harry Whitaker or Victor W. Lamont?

Unable to answer the question at its session yesterday afternoon, the Republican County Central committee is today awaiting the arrival of Monday, May 14, when it will again wrestle with one of the most unique situations in the history of county politics.

In brief, the situation is this: The three Anaheim central committeemen, J. S. Howard, E. C. Dutton and D. Jessurun, recommended the appointment of Lamont, saying that of the three men eligible to appointment, these three being Paul Taggart, Whitaker and Lamont, Lamont was the man most satisfactory to the residents of Anaheim. Against this recommendation for Lamont, came Whitaker before the central committee with a formidable petition signed by several dozen residents of Anaheim, including several bankers, the mayor and three other city trustees, and many professional and business men.

Decision Not Final
Whatever decision the central committee comes to is not final. Its report goes as a recommendation to Congressman Phil D. Swing, of El Centro, whose recommendation will then go to the post office department.

The situation in relation to the Anaheim post office is one of long development. Two or three years ago, when it was expected that a change in postmasters would be made by the new Republican administration, Whitaker received the written endorsement of practically all of the county central committeemen and all the state central committeemen. Had the appointment been made at that time, Whitaker would not have been opposed. After the Republican administration's policy of allowing all Democratic postmasters to finish their four-year terms was announced, eight or nine other candidates for the Anaheim office appeared and took the examinations last fall.

Reports Eligible List

About April 9, the U. S. Civil Service commission reported the list of eligibles for the Anaheim office, making it necessary that one of the three be appointed.

After this list was announced, the Anaheim committeemen met for its deliberations, and Whitaker's petition was circulated.

The opponents of Whitaker at yesterday's meeting declared that the three central committeemen of Anaheim were in a position to know the wishes of the people of Anaheim, and said that the signing of a petition might be misleading.

Howard said he had told the candidates for the office that a petition would not be necessary.

In order to give Lamont an opportunity to get up a petition, should he so desire, the matter of taking a vote as between Lamont and Whitaker was continued two weeks.

The central committee yesterday unanimously endorsed the application of Mrs. Sula Abbott, now acting postmaster at Placentia, for appointment as permanent postmaster.

SORBONNE TO GIVE HONORS TO VIRGIL

PARIS, May 1.—The Sorbonne, which a few days ago celebrated with all official pomp the centenary of the birth of Renan, is about to celebrate the fame of an author who in all probability is still more widely read and known than Renan, namely, Virgil.

In 1914 the native city of the poet, Mantua, had launched a plan to commemorate his memory by a great monument which would have cost a quarter of a million lire. The war came and the monument was not built, and if it is now to be built will cost a million lire. The Latin world, however, is not dumb to the appeal of Mantua. France, Italy, Belgium and Spain have heard it.

The French Minister of Education has approved the circulation in the secondary schools throughout the country of a propaganda pamphlet with a title equivalent to "Virgil's Penny," and it is hoped that the youth of the land, more familiar perhaps with the text of the poet than their elders who on occasion cite him, will part with coins jealously conserved for quite other purposes. Tomorrow a group of scholars who have undertaken, in France, charge of the campaign for the Mantua monument will hold a meeting at the Sorbonne in order to make a public appeal to those who are willing to sacrifice an obol to the memory of the author of the "Georgics."

Theaters

A scene from "The Flirt," current attraction at the Yost theater.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

PRINCESS—"The Flirt," with all-star cast.

WEST END—"Drums of Fate," with Mary Miles Minter.

"QUICKSANDS" ON YOST SCREEN TOMORROW

Seldom has a picture had a cast more unusual than that found in "Quicksands," which comes to the Yost theater tomorrow.

Helene Chadwick and Richard Dix head the company, with the support of such notables as Walter Long, Noah Beery, Alan Hale, J. Farrell McDonald, George Cooper, Edwin Stevens, Frank Campeau, Tom Wilson, Dick Sutherland, Hardee Kirkland, Lou King, Lionel Belmore, Jean Hersholt, William Dyer, Jack Curtis and James A. Marcus.

Added to these, the 10th United States Cavalry lends its assistance with thrilling effect. Howard Hawks wrote the story and Jack Conway directed it.

BIG GAME PHOTOPLAY AT WEST END TONIGHT

"Hunting Big Game in Africa with Gun and Camera," a Universal picture which opens tonight at the West End theater, is drama of the wilds that forms as fascinating a story as any conceived by the master-creators of fiction. Sixty thousand miles of the dark continent were traversed by the expedition, headed by H. A. Snow, to obtain these startling views of all sorts of beasts from antelopes to zebras, including species seldom seen in museums or zoological gardens.

This is the same picture that ran for three months at the Lyric theater in New York.

All honor is due to Snow and his associates for the courage with which they faced not only the perils of charging animals but the even more prevalent dangers of disease and the constant privations entailed by a trip through hundreds of miles of waterless regions in blistering heat. Because the temperature during the day was so high that the film was melted as soon as it touched water, the photographers were compelled to do their developing at night in a special filiv laboratory.

If one is impressed by the bravery of H. A. Snow, whose marksmanship on more than one occasion saved members of his party from death, what must be said of Sidney Snow, the photographer, who stuck to his camera, grinding away with lions, leopards and other preying animals skulking near enough for close-ups of the clearest definition!

STRONG CAST IN PICTURE AT TEMPLE TOMORROW.

One of the finest casts ever assembled in a motion picture is seen in George Medford's production, "You Can't Fool Your Wife," which comes to the Temple theater tomorrow for a run of five days.

Leatrice Joy, Nita Naldi, Lewis Stone and Pauline Gordon, all prominent leading screen players, are in featured roles. The superstar, John Daly Murphy, Tom Carrigan and Dan Pennell.

"You Can't Fool Your Wife" was adapted for the screen by Walde Young, who wrote the scenario for "Java Head." The picture is said to be absorbingly interesting and deeply appealing.

"THE FLIRT" OPENS AT PRINCESS TODAY.

Have you ever noticed that one photoplay will hold you spellbound, while another, equally as artistic in photography and cast, leaves your mind groping, and you rise from your seat with a sense of something having been lacking? That is due to the fact that the story lacks that human touch that brings it within our sympathies.

"The Flirt," Booth Tarkington's classic of American life, which opens at the Princess theater today, is a glowing example of the type story that holds the attention from start to finish, and a careful analysis proves it to be due to the fact that it is a cross section of life as the average person knows it.

Robert Henley, who was especially selected to direct "The Flirt," stuck closely to the text of the book, and retained all the delightful little human touches that made Tarkington's work so universally popular. Exceptional care was used in selecting the cast for this production. To interpret the title role, Eileen Percy was selected, her winsome blond beauty, coupled with her proven dramatic ability, made her a happy choice for Cora Madison. Helen Jerome Eddy was cast as the sister who was the direct antithesis.

For the role of the father Henry engaged George Nichols, whose work in "The Ghost Patrol" won wide commendation. Others in the really all-star cast are Lydia Knott, Buddy Messinger, Nell Craig, Tom Whitlock and William Weksh.

"The Flirt" will be seen at the Princess today and tomorrow only, with matinees and evening performances daily.

Union Pacific to Talk to Patrons Through Newspaper Advertisements

The Union Pacific realizes that the good-will of its patrons is its greatest asset. It also believes that a successful railway is the greatest asset of any region or community which it serves.

The Union Pacific wants its patrons to feel that the railway is intimately interested in their welfare, and that the road is built, equipped and operated especially to serve their transportation needs.

The railway, like any other business, has its problems, some of which are not always thoroughly understood by the public. For that reason, the Union Pacific will present certain of these problems from time to time, and endeavor to explain them, using only such statistics as are readily understood.

Some of the topics suggested are:

The Misunderstood Railroad Earning Guaranty.
New Equipment and Capital Improvements for the Union Pacific.

What the Union Pacific Pays in Taxes.

The Railroad and the Farm.

Preventing Accidents at Grade Crossings.

Who Owns the Union Pacific?

Expediting the Movement of Freight Cars.

The Facts About Freight Rates.

Where the Union Pacific Dollar Goes.

Railroads—Safe to Ride On, Unsafe to Walk On.

It is planned to publish one of these short talks in the form of an advertisement about the first of each month in newspapers along the Union Pacific Lines. It is hoped that this method will tend to clarify some of the misconceptions about railway operation, and that it will serve to inform the public of the constructive things the Union Pacific is doing.

Constructive suggestions will be welcomed.

C. R. GRAY.
President.

GRANDMOTHER PROUD AS LAD 16 WINS

license, a dangerous counterfeit. To real freedom, government, above all, is necessary.

"Because, by government alone, the privileges of mankind can be protected; his right to life, to liberty, to property, to free government and to equality before the law.

"Of these equality before the law is most important. Under the Constitution, it is guaranteed to us. From the President of the United States to its most humble citizen, this equality applies. If personal liberty, or property is denied without cause, it may be recovered. Moreover the process of recovery is to be supervised by the court of each citizen, not that of an adjoining county or State.

Liberty Assured

"Under the Constitution the right of liberty is assured to each citizen alike. He may not be restrained, or imprisoned, or confined except after due course of law. He may come and go within the land, or he may emigrate and return, as he desires. Moreover he may not be banished from the land.

"The right of property is expressly secured in the Constitution by clauses in the fifth and fourteenth amendments. Neither State nor Nation shall take away a man's life or property without due process of law. There shall be no direct taxes imposed by Congress upon the people of the United States, except an income tax, for which special provision is made in an amendment to the Constitution.

Each man may earn his living, exercise his functions and use his faculties in whatsoever way he may choose, without restraint or hindrance.

Life Invincible

"The right of life is of course pre-supposed and in this land, as in most others, inviolable, except by the State, for due cause.

"Lastly a free government is assured to us. It is based upon three features: its representative character, the system of checks and balances, and popular sovereignty.

"We make little use of direct elections. Our government is largely representative, and for the reason that direct election in any large territory, or participated in by any great numbers, has always been a failure. By our representative system, with its short terms, we enjoy all the advantages of an absolute democracy and escape the disadvantages of autocracy.

"Our system of checks and balances protects us from undue centralization. By the power of veto and the ability to rouse public sentiment, the executive forms a check upon the legislative. By its right to determine the constitutionality of any proposed or established law or order, the judiciary is a check upon both the legislative and executive. And the judiciary itself is under the direct control of the Constitution.

Sovereignty Our Right

"Popular sovereignty is our right. The Constitution in which all other forms of government have their source, derives power solely from the will of the people. Nor can it be changed without the will of the people. Because of this the people rule.

"This is our Constitution, its roots planted in the best and purest Anglo-Saxon tradition, transplanted to a soil already dedicated to freedom, its early growth shaped and pruned by the hands of far-seeing statesmen. It has been consecrated by the blood of heroes. It is our hope for the coming generation. It is our citadel of freedom, and it must and will endure."

FIRE DELAYS TRAIN

MITCHELL, S. D., May 1.—The Milwaukee passenger train was delayed as the result of the burning of a small bridge between Welsey and Virgil. A prairie fire started seven miles west of the track but was driven by a wind until it reached the Milwaukee right of way. It burned the bridge in its path. The heat was so intense that it was impossible to fight the flames except by back firing, and the high wind made this too dangerous to attempt. A train was made up here and sent to the scene of the burned bridge, where the passengers were transferred over a temporary bridge to the new train.

BLOODED CATTLE BURN

STILLWATER, Minn., May 1.—Twenty-one purebred pedigree Holstein cattle, five horses and two ponies were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the barn on the farm of E. A. Heifort, living five and one-half miles north of here. Six tons of hay also were consumed by the blaze, bringing the loss to approximately $16,000.

icipation in the world court already placed by President Harding himself in the forefront of questions to be decided by congress or the people in 1924, with this issue reviving interest in and pressure for America's adherence to the League of Nations, and with 76 national organizations joining in a drive to promote steps for international good will and world peace, the issue of America's international relationships seems certain to be a dominant one in the 1924 presidential and congressional campaigns.

Consolidation Effort

An effort will be made by the National Council for Prevention of Wars, of which Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Republican governor of Pennsylvania, is a leading worker, to consolidate the anti-war sentiment and efforts of all local, state and national organizations committed to that cause.

Adherence to the anti-war cause will be placed above adherence to any political party. The statement of faith to be followed will be the recent declaration by Major General John F. O'Ryan.

"I would be a traitor to my country if I did not do everything in my power to abolish war."

All this is being met by a counter-offensive by the isolationists and big army and navy groups. Already propaganda is under way for a new campaign of "preparedness."

Trust Replaces Force

International confidence and trust, they suggest, may succeed where threats and displays of force have only served to breed bitterness and resistance.

Mrs. Florence Boeckel, educational secretary of the Council for Prevention of War, says:

"The definite task of solving the problem of how to abolish war was laid upon the first United States congress by the General Court of Massachusetts, in a letter signed by Samuel Adams.

"This letter urged congress to 'take into deep and most serious consideration whether any measures can be used through influence with nations in Europe' * * * that national differences may be settled and determined without the necessity of war."

Three Plans

Three concrete plans are now before America:

ONE—The world court, sponsored by Harding, Hughes and Hoover, which is an outgrowth of the international court of arbitration.

TWO—The League of Nations, including the world court.

THREE—The Borth resolution for the outlawry of war, based upon the plan of Salmon O. Levinson of Chicago and the late Senator Knox.

Both Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, woman member of the Republican National committee, and Mrs. Emily Blair, chairman of the Democratic Women's committee, agree preservation of peace is the most important question before the world.

Sovereignty Our Right

"Popular sovereignty is our right. The Constitution in which all other forms of government have their source, derives power solely from the will of the people. Nor can it be changed without the will of the people. Because of this the people rule.

"This is our Constitution, its roots planted in the best and purest Anglo-Saxon tradition, transplanted to a soil already dedicated to freedom, its early growth shaped and pruned by the hands of far-seeing statesmen. It has been consecrated by the blood of heroes. It is our hope for the coming generation. It is our citadel of freedom, and it must and will endure."

INQUEST HELD TODAY OVER AUTO VICTIM

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 1.—Applicants for the position of security-manager of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce were heard yesterday evening at the meeting of the organization held here. Application of H. Dunn, Hollywood; L. C. Counts, Santa Ana; S. S. Schumaker, Fullerton; A. L. Hubbel, Calexico; Harry Welch, Phoenix, Ariz., were made.

There was complaint over the service rendered by the electric company and the clerk was directed to draft a letter to the supplying company asking that steps be taken to insure adequate service for this city.

Major C. H. Harter was named city advertising manager for three months, during which time he will distribute his folders on trains incoming to Los Angeles.

Joseph Vavra, the city treasurer, requested that the trustees authorize the printing of city bonds on better paper. Mr. Vavra was given authority with the city clerk to settle the matter.

Chief of Police Jack Tinsley was authorized to employ a life guard for the beach this summer.

New Club Formed By Tustin Women For Social Days

TUSTIN, May 1.—Tustin is to have a unique women's club. The idea was discussed by fifteen women who met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Preston on A street, and it was decided that the organization shall have no officers and no dues. Further steps will be taken in the organization of the society at a meeting to be held two weeks from Wednesday, May 16, at which a name will be selected.

Cards, fancy work and social affairs will feature the club.

Youth Sentenced To Six Months In County Jail Here

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 1.—W. C. Patrick, 22 years old, was serving a sentence of six months in the county jail pronounced by Judge Warner when Patrick pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny. He was accused of stealing a fur, gun and accessories from cars left parked about the city.

Chief of Police Tinsley said that there were several overcoats and guns at the station which the young man had come into possession which the owners might secure by identifying.

When Charles Sprague, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, failed to appear in justice court yesterday for preliminary hearing, his bail of $125 was ordered forfeited acting Justice Leo Goepper announced today.

experience in the restaurant and cafeteria trade. He had charge, he said, of the Pullman cafeteria at San Diego during the 1915 exposition in that city. Thousands of people daily passed the long steam tables during that time.

Mr. Long purchased the interest of H. W. Warwick, who sold, it was announced, in order that Mr. and Mrs. Warwick might take a trip to their old home in the East. L. M. Claypool was broker for the transaction.

"The cafeteria at first was considered a joke," continued Mr. Long. "But I've yet to hear of the failure of a cafeteria that was doing business under proper capable management. That is not true of straight restaurants. I have managed both. I know."

"Overhead is the answer. The cafeteria has the lease possible overhead. The average restaurant usually has more overhead than it can carry."

"To the best of my knowledge there are no successful chains of straight restaurants in the country. Childs' of New York has the nearest approach to that line."

"Herbert of San Francisco has opened a restaurant in Los Angeles. He is one of the finest restaurants in San Francisco in the old wet days. Now we will watch his experiment of a chain of restaurants—Meads', Childs' and others of that class are not in the same category with Herbert's, or in regular restaurant, the manager continually must be watching the backdoor. Too much food being wasted. For that matter, the cafeteria manager would lose a lot of money if he did not waste. But the system of serving in a cafeteria is economical and is a preventative of waste."

"The women meet this by citing the League of Nations, including the world court.

Bonds Sold By Trustees At Beach City

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 1.—Three hundred thousand dollars in city of Huntington Beach five per cent improvement bonds, recently voted for the paving of Ocean avenue, were sold last night by the city trustees to the Citizens' National Bank of Los Angeles and the Security company at a premium of $1560. If the bonds had been six per cent the premium would have been between $10,000 and $12,000, but in the term of twenty years the interest would have cost the city approximately $10,000 before the bonds could be retired. In this way the trustees feel that they saved about $10,000.

The city clerk was instructed to write a letter to the Boy and Girl Scouts asking their co-operation in reducing the casualties to the windows in the local Seventeenth street station. Wire netting will also be placed over the panes to prevent further intrusions from youthful rock throwers, it was said.

There was complaint over the service rendered by the electric company and the clerk was directed to draft a letter to the supplying company asking that steps be taken to insure adequate service for this city.

Major C. H. Harter was named city advertising manager for three months, during which time he will distribute his folders on trains incoming to Los Angeles.

$1500 for the best oration on the

WIFE REGRETS SHE HAD SHEIK HUSBAND JAILED FOR BIGAMY

"He's Just Spoiled Boy," Declares Pretty Victim of Matrimonial Tangle

By LAUREN HURD

"I'm sorry I had him arrested.
He's just a great big spoiled boy,
and I know he'll come back to me if I can get him out of jail."

Mrs. Mitzie Collins, wife of R.
P. Collins, professional baseball player, in jail here on bigamy charges, brought by her, so today confided to the representative of The Register. She was here to visit Collins.

At the same time Orange county authorities were investigating reports that still another wife, beside pretty Dorothy Martinez, who was with Collins when he was arrested at Ontario, had been involved in the asserted matrimonial tangles of the so-called "heart sheik."

Mrs. Collins is not the Amazonian woman, gum chewing and un-grammatical, that she has been pictured. She is pretty, with honest gray eyes, a pleasing smile and bobbed hair.

Standing only 4 feet 11 inches tall, she is a hundred pounds of pleasing personality.

Smile Softens Criticism

"The newspaper men have tried to make a henpeck out of me," she said severely, softening her criticism with one of her winning smiles.
"You can see for yourself, that I'm too small to be vicious, even if I wanted to."

And she didn't look at all vicious.

Collins was arrested first on charges of issuing worthless checks. Then appeared Mrs. Collins, who secured a warrant for his arrest on bigamy charges.

Mrs. Collins secured his release on the bigamy charges, and after paying up the check, supported his petition for probation on the other charges.

Then Collins left his wife, it was declared, even after she had stood by him in trouble. She thought that he had gone back to Miss Martinez, and in her anger, hurled down to Santa Ana, where she swore to a second bigamy war-

HARDING SENDS BALLET STAGED SISTER NOTE OF REGRET

Unable to Participate In Exercises Incident to Y Cornerstone Laying

Replying by letter to a telegram forwarded by his sister, Mrs. E. E.
Remsberg, of this city, extending to him an invitation to participate in the laying of the cornerstone of the new Y. M. C. A. building here, President Warren G. Harding stated that there was little probability of his being in position to accept the invitation.

"I fear it will be quite impossible for me to undertake to speak in your city," the chief executive wrote.
At the same time, he said that if he should come to California he would be sure to come to Santa Ana to visit his sister.

Invitations to participate in the cornerstone exercises also were forwarded by S. H. Finley, president of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.,
and C. C. Chapman, of Fullerton, chairman of the state Y. M. C. A. committee. The President's letter to Mrs. Remsberg follows:

"The White House, Washington,
April 25, 1923.

"My dear Sister:

"I have your telegram in which you join in inviting me to be present at Santa Ana and participate in the ceremonies incident to the laying of the corner stone of the new Y. M. C. A. building. I do not know at the present time precisely when I will reach California, and I fear I should be a disappointment to any organization with which I undertook to make a tentative engagement.

"Moreover, the trip which I have in contemplation is so extensive that I must limit my public addressess to a very restricted number, and I fear it will be quite impossible for me to undertake to speak in your city.

"There are so many invitations that if I venture upon an acceptance I should do nothing but speak all the time, and I am very sure that the American newspaper reading public would soon become wearied and would tire of an excess of Presidential utterances each day.

"I fear you will have to discourage your friends about my participation in the corner stone laying."
"Of course, if our plans mature so that I can come to California I will be very sure to come and see you.

"Very truly yours,

WARREN G. HARDING.

In making some changes near the green the soil is rendered very soft. After a hard rain it has become so sloppy that a ball striking such a spot will either wholly or partially bury itself. Is it possible to loosen the ball from the hole it has dug for itself by lifting and replacing it in the hole? *

Two rulings are possible in such a situation. If play is under U. S. G. A. rules, the player may lift the ball and drive again from where the stroke was made, merely losing stroke and distance. Under the W. G. A. rules, the ball may be lifted and dropped without penalty, the ball being regarded in casual water.

The T. N. T.'s had it almost as easy, winning from the Panthers, 18 to 8.

SLEEPING SICKNESS IS SPREADING MORE

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The Public Health Service at Washington announces that since January 1 it has reports of 575 cases of attack by a form of sleeping sickness, called encephalitis by physicians, and supposed to have some relation to influenza.

Unofficial reports show an especially prevalence in the North, at least in the territory to the west of the Great Lakes, where it is estimated that the cases in a longer period have exceeded the Washington reports for the entire country.

This is a fearful disease with whose approach the public should be more familiar. When the outcome is not death, it is often crippling by paralysis or even mental disarrangement.

In some cases the beginning of the attack is so gradual as to be unsuspected even by the victim himself or those who have him under close observation.

He goes so haltingly about his work that the tragic blunder of mistaking the oncoming of most serious malady for indifference to Volstead restrictions has been most natural.

A person who is found by himself or friends to be suffering with sluggishness and drowsiness, with uncertainty in gait and other abnormalities, should not neglect the warnings.

It may be only some mild indisposition, but medical advice is indicated.

For how many mysterious disappearances and deaths unattended and under suspicious circumstances does this disease explain? This possibility at least has been suggested.

Car Removal Charge Brought By Woman

P. W. Fletcher and H. Bullard were made defendants today in a complaint brought by Lela A. Horn, charging them with removing mortgaged property without written consent.

The complaint charges that the defendants departed with a costly automobile, on which the woman held a mortgage, without first securing permission.

AVIATOR INJURED

WYMORE, Neb., May 1.—MacArndt, young aviator living at Marysville, south of here, received very serious injuries when his airplane struck the ground at the landing field east of Marysville. He was thrown forward against a part of the machine and received bad cuts on the face, neck and throat, and was taken to a Marysville hospital for treatment. He was able to be moved to his home today. The landing gears and lower wings of the plane were broken by coming in contact with a raise in the ground.

TALBERT

TALBERT, May 1.—Rose Bushard was honored on her birthday anniversary at a dinner party Wednesday evening at her home, given by her mother, Mrs. George W. Bushard. The table was gaily decorated with roses of pink and white. A birthday cake of snowy white was served with luscious strawberries as the dessert course.

Covers were laid for the honoree: Rose Bushard, her grandmother, Mrs. Mary V. Bushard; Mrs. Millet and Joseph Kagerer, all of Los Angeles, and members of the home circle—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bushard, Miss Vera Bushard, Ted, Jack and Jimmie Bushard.

During the evening an uncle, Louis Bushard, wife and daughter, Fay, also joined the company.

Mrs. Maybelle Harper and son, Jack, visited Mrs. Sybil Warner Tuesday.

S. E. Talbert has just completed the moving of a large steel tank weighing eighteen tons from the Santa Ana sugar factory to the Holly factory at Huntington Beach. A month was taken for the trip. As the tank was 33 by 28 feet in diameter, it was too high to allow of passage under any telephone or electric wires along the way, so delays were encountered frequently. The last few yards of the journey was the most difficult.

One-half mile yet remains of the sewer line from the northern extremity of the Robert Gisler land, to which point the crew has progressed with the laying of the lower section of pipe quick sand is once more interfering to some extent, and it may again be necessary to put in a foundation of sand and gravel as in a strip further south.

George Bushard has finished irrigating his large acreage of bean land.

A combined business meeting and social was held Friday evening by the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church south, at the church. Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Hattie Talbert; vice president, Miss Dorothy Rogers; secretary, Miss Helen Wardlow; treasurer, Miss Dora Davis; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. C. Bockmon. The appointment of department heads will be made at the first meeting held by the new officers.

A pleasing program was enjoyed at the close of the business meeting.

Several songs were sung by the group of Leaguers present. Miss Helen Wardlow played an instrumental piece and also accompanied Mrs. S. E. Talbert, who rendered as a solo the song, "Words Harshly Spoken."

"Guilty or Not Guilty" was given as a recitation by Dorothy Rogers and Rose Rogers recited "Floe's Letter."

Mrs. S. C. Bockmon gave the reading, "Laska."

Tamara, the Japanese rancher on the Meyers ranch, is replanting ten acres of his chili crop.

Ebell Hears World Peace Theme Discussed By Speaker

Dinner At Inn Pleasant Affair of Business Women's Club

May-Day Breakfast Proves Huge Success

Junior High Mothers To Enjoy Assembly

Easter Bride Is Surprised With Post-Nuptial Shower

"International understanding is absolutely essential to a world peace," declared G. Bromley Oxnam, head of the Church of All Nations, Los Angeles, speaking yesterday afternoon before members of the Ebell society assembled at the Temple theater.

One of the most forceful and dynamic speakers ever appearing locally, Dr. Oxnam went from deeply interesting personal opinions and observations on present day world conditions and future possibilities.

Agreeing with Lord Robert Cecil of Great Britain that unless superhuman effort be brought to bear, this present generation would see another world conflict, he declared that such effort must necessarily include three things, an understanding of conditions leading up to the World War, an understanding of the goal of world peace and an understanding of all the problems involved.

"Secret agreements between nations such as have been made public since the World War, should never be allowed. The people should only be called upon to stand back of their own decisions and mistakes and should not be responsible for the mistakes of a few men representing the government secretly. The Ruhr situation is a direct result of such agreements."

"Not until war is abhorred rather than glorified can we know universal peace. It can never be built upon an idea of revenge, but must have as its foundation, the principles laid down by Jesus of Nazareth. The world situation can be solved only in the light of the ethics of Jesus."

"With another world conflict, we are facing the doom of western civilization. Since the goal of social endeavor should be the building of human life and trained minds, why not organize to make that goal for the world rather than that each nation should seek to gain things for itself. We should all be motivated by the desire to build life rather than the desire for personal gain."

Problems in world organization, the speaker classified as being of race, language and culture; difference in civilization levels; sheer numbers, with China and India cited as examples, and local self-government.

The solution offered was education, with a careful study of each nation in point of physical characteristics, place in the economic world, history, psychology of its people and religion.

"All of these must be understood and then when it comes to drafting international policies the resultant understanding of national characteristics would simplify the tasks and make easier that for which we all hope—World Peace." Dr. Oxnam held the complete attention of a large audience, and a vote of thanks was accorded the Peace program committee headed by Mrs. R. G. Tuthill, for its instrumental in bringing such a remarkable man to address the club.

In the absence of Mrs. John Clarkson who is representing Ebell society at the state convention now in session at Eureka, Mrs. Prince L. Tople presided very graciously.

The outstanding business feature of the meeting was election of officers with a ticket elected as follows: Mrs. Angus J. Crookshank, president; Mrs. Terry Stevenson, first vice-president; Mrs. S. W. Stanley, second vice-president; Mrs. R. G. Tuthill, recording secretary; Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, corresponding secretary; Mrs. N. A. Beals, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. McCormac, curator, and a board of directors composed of Mesdames S. M. Davis, C. F. Smith, M. A. Patton, P. R. Reynolds, O. M. Robbins and Hervey Trueblood.

Among interesting committee reports given were those of Mrs. W. B. Baker, day nursery; Mrs. S. W. Nau, ways and means and Mrs. O. M. Robbins, building. Mrs. Baker gave a list of badly needed articles for the day nursery soon to move into its own quarters. Mrs. Nau expressed appreciation of the aid given at the tea room and bespoke a continuation of that aid and co-operation and Mrs. Robbins offered glad assurance that the club house with all hoped-for features, would be under way in the summer.

Community singing of "America the Beautiful" and "Swanee River" led by Elmer Heidt proved very nearly as interesting as Mr. Heidt's genial and airy persiflage.

Mrs. E. B. Trago outlined the plan for a delightful community card party which the Fifth Household Economics section of the club will present tomorrow afternoon at the Haynes salesroom, First and Main streets. A cordial invitation is extended the general public to be present.

AMERICAN YEOMAN

Thanks to the indefatigable efforts of Mrs. A. L. Johnson and M. R. Freeman, of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, last night's social evening of the order, at M. W. A. was a pronounced success.

The pot-luck supper boasted every delicacy imaginable and served to open the highly successful evening. Dancing and music in the hours to follow offered enjoyment to a large percentage of the local membership, many Los Angeles guests and five motor parties from Fullerton.

How many of you breakfasted this morning at the unique May-day breakfast held at the Presbyterian church with the Ladies' Aid society members as hostesses?

With the president, Miss Doris Robbins, presiding gracefully at the head of the table, over thirty of the members seated around the hollow square, and a spirit of freemasonry in evidence, the evening was deemed highly successful and one well-calculated to achieve the results of friendliness and co-operation for which the club stands.

Matters of business occupied much of the dinner hour, with the proposed constitution adopted by a unanimous vote of the members present. The question of dues, after discussion, was settled with the decision that two dollars initiation fee and six dollars yearly, payable semi-annually would cover all present needs. The club will continue the Monday luncheons and the monthly dinner at the Inn, and more regular attendance of all members is urged.

Miss Robbins named entertainment committees for May as follows: May 7, Miss Teresa McDougal, Mrs. Olive Lopez and Miss Jeanette McFadden; May 14, the Misses Verdale Breckenridge, Marlene Briggs and Ruth Walker; May 21, Mrs. Lulu Martin, Miss Hattie Whidden and Miss Mayne Brightwell; May 28 and dinner night, the Misses Nellie Vance Wilson, Floy Donaldson and Lorraine French, in each case the chairman to be chosen.

As the dinner drew to a close, Miss Robbins introduced Miss Elizabeth Phillips as mistress of ceremonies, a position which Miss Phillips, with her quiet humor, filled most cleverly. In arranging her program, she declared that she endeavored to use the talent that was within the club, feeling that it would be of deeper interest to all members.

Her first number was a trio composed of the Misses Ruth Frothingham, Mary Henderson and Edith Cornell with Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano. The girls announced their numbers to be "Rain" and "Boats of Mine," both of which were beautifully sung. So enjoyable they proved to the club members that the three were recalled to sing a quaint little southern love song, "Malinda Lou."

The presence of Miss Emma Hardy of Balboa, offered the happy feature for Miss Hardy, very much Santa Ana's very own, was also accompanied by her violin and with Miss Armstrong at the piano, gave the first movement of Wieniawski's concerto, "Romance" followed by the "Flute Song" by Thurlow Lieurance. It was deeply regretted that Miss Hardy failed to bring more music with her.

Adding interest to her appearance was the fact that she will leave soon for Asheville, N. C., where she will be California's entrant in the Young Musicians' contest at the Biennial. With her, she will carry the appreciation and best wishes of hosts of friends who hope to have their young violinist return with the honors of national contest winner.

Extremely lively were the special exercises introduced by Miss Nellie Vance Wilson who lined about half the club members up for certain gymnastic feats. Whether the events proved more enjoyable to participants or onlookers, remained moot question, but both enjoyed them very thoroughly.

The program was brought to a close by the presentation of a one-act play "Catesby," by Percival Wilde, given by Eleanor Young Elliott who upon request followed it with an original monologue, "The Way It Was."

M. E. Picnic Plans

At the regular monthly Sunday school banquet held in the First Methodist Episcopal church last night, the board entertained the school orchestra, which rendered several splendid musical numbers.

The orchestra, under the able leadership of the Rev. James Hughes, received much commendation for its excellent service and the pleasure given the entire school membership each Sunday. The Rev. Will A. Betts proposed a toast to the members to which Mr. Hughes responded.

During the business meeting the date of the picnic was set for May 12, one week earlier than previously announced. Orange county park was the place chosen and a fine program of sports is being arranged.

Philathaea Class

Philathaea of the Baptist church were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Etta Powers last Friday evening.

After the business session members vied with one another in making May baskets which were to be filled with flowers and sent to sick children this morning. Games and stunts then offered a hilarious time and at a late hour the hostess served delicious ice cream and cake to the guests who numbered about forty.

Junior High Mothers To Enjoy Assembly

All mothers of Junior high school pupils will be honored guests at an unusually delightful assembly to be presented tomorrow morning at 10:15 o'clock in the assembly room.

With the president, Miss Doris Robbins, presiding gracefully at the head of the table, over thirty of the members seated around the hollow square, and a spirit of freemasonry in evidence, the evening was deemed highly successful and one well-calculated to achieve the results of friendliness and co-operation for which the club stands.

And the breakfast offered for your more-or-less capricious fancy! Nectar and ambrosia! Shades of Luciferus! Away with nightingale's tongues and such rude fare!

Waffles smothered in golden maple syrup or equally golden Orange county honey, featherly biscuits such as mother used to make, luscious ham, delicately browned, crisp bacon with golden hearted eggs—such were a few of the dainties possible to order following the iced and sparkling grapefruit.

That the affair was a success was proven by the fact that almost twice as many came as were expected. Many little parties were formed as clever hostesses seized upon the idea for discharging in an original manner, some of their accumulated social debts.

One merry party was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. George S. Smith, who, en route to their Big Bear cabin, tarried to breakfast in state.

Success was due in a large measure to committee chairman although they in turn claimed that their working members, especially those of table committees, were responsible. Chairmen included Mrs. Roy Johnson and Mrs. John Sauer of the dining-room, Mrs. Lenore Ward and Mrs. Fred V. Bomboy, kitchen; Mrs. E. B. Sprague and Mrs. Alex Brownridge, decorations and Mrs. J. W. Thomas, menu cards.

At 2 p. m. the missionary meal will present the regular monthly program when Mrs. Arthur Humphrey will have charge of the devotional service. Chapters three and four of "The Trend of the Races" will be received by Mrs. N. A. Beals. The radio station will be in charge of the dining room. S. B. A.

With a class of 25 new members to be initiated at the M. W. A. hall tomorrow night, the progressive committee of the Security Benefit association has planned something extra for their entertainment.

For Wednesday evening, May 9, the same committee has announced an old fashioned dancing party and will give every one a chance to join in the popular dances of a few years back. There will be a fine fiddler and good music provided. All members, prospective members and friends are invited. Card tables have been provided for the ones who may want to play.

May 16 there will be another nice class initiation, and another good time is planned, while on May 23 the social dance, which is given every month, is looking forward to as a pleasant event.

The Council's quartette, composed of Mesdames Leilah Jones, C. Briggs, P. Hayes, and C. Wetherbee has been practicing diligently the songs of the council, and community songs so lovers of good music will enjoy a treat during the meetings.

265 Boxes of Cherries Are Received By Express At Bay City

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Increasing receipts of strawberries were responsible for further declines on both drawers and crates. Strawberries sold generally from 60 to 75 cents per drawer while a few sales were made at higher prices.

Receipts of cherries amounted to 265 boxes by express.

Mexican watermelons were in very light demand and but a few were selling at 5 to 6 cents per pound.

One car of fresh beets and carrots were received under ice from Texas. Local supplies of these vegetables are hardly sufficient to meet the present demand, so dealers stated.

A few boxes of new crop onions were received and are offered to the trade at 5 cents per pound.

The market on old potatoes is very quiet. Fancy river potatoes are very scarce but there is an over supply of under grade stock on this market. New garnets are now bringing 4 1/2 to 5 cents per pound.

There is a sharp decline on young chickens, weighing from 2 to 2 1/2 pounds due largely to increased receipts in these sizes. Young roosters, however, are very scarce at this time, with very fancy stock selling from 45 to 50 cents per pound. Leghorn hens weighing over three pounds are now selling from 28 to 24 cents.

One hundred and fifty-five coops of live poultry were received by express.

WOMEN TO LEAD IN PEACE MOVEMENTS

MONTREAL, Canada, May 1.—The love for home, children and the welfare of the community makes women leaders in the international movement for world peace and a better understanding among nations. Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, declared in a recent address before the Montreal Women's club.

"There cannot be rivalry among women in these fundamental things, for what is good for the children of one country is good for the children of another," Dr. Barrett stated. "In the international movement women don't have to learn the A. B. C. of it as men have had to do."

Dr. Barrett acclaimed the international agreements which have come about between Great Britain and the United States following the war, in which they have been held together, not by psychology of fear, as some asserted, but by "the great cement of racial instinct and social ideas in common."

HEALTH TALK NO. 38

—By J. G. Kelly, D.C.—
"Stop, look, and listen"—is not a bad motto at any time.
It is equally good in matters of health.

Some day you will stand at the cross roads—with the road to health stretching out before you in one direction—and the road to disease in another.
The road down is always an easy one to travel—just neglect, carelessness, disobedience to the laws of health.

The road upward to health is always a little harder to travel—it means a little thought, a little attention, a little self denial.

In either case, stop and think—What is at the end of the road? Are you at the cross roads now? Or have you already slipped a little on the downward road?

Stop now, and think where you are. Choose the right road now while you may—and if you have already thoughtlessly started on the downward path, turn back now before you get too far from the goal of health.

Let me help you check up on your physical condition. Let me show you how I may help you on the right road, the road worth while, the better way to health. Consultation and spinal analysis free.

NEWS BRIEFS

William J. Morrison, veteran mail carrier who was injured when he fell from his bicycle here last Thursday, was resting comfortably today and will soon be able to resume his duties. Morrison, who is personally known to hundreds of residents in the north section of the city, twisted his left knee when his heavily-laden bicycle swerved and threw him to the ground. The knee-cap was badly wrenched but no bones were broken.

Robert McFadden, pioneer resident, who is seriously ill at his home, 1108 North Main street, continues to grow weaker, according to reports today from his son, Pearson.

It took Tom Feeley, 426 Fruit street, just one hour and twenty minutes to catch his limit of trout in the Upper Trabuco creek today, the first of the 1923 season, according to a report Feeley made at the A. E. Hawley sporting goods store. The largest fish Feeley caught was 12 inches long, he said. Feeley, who said there were plenty of fish in the Upper Trabuco and that the water there was clear, was accompanied on his trip by Ed Ross and Jim Murphy, both of Santa Ana.

A census of Santa Ana is in process of compilation by members of the commercial engineering department of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. Ben Goodrich, Wallace G. Keitch and H. W. Seidell are doing the work. The actual labor of securing data will consume approximately ten days, according to the engineers, who said further that the completed report would not be ready for publication until June.
The purpose of the census, they said, was to serve as a guide in planning growth and expansion of the company activities.

Ralph Collins, city license tax inspector, and William McCulloch, formerly city electrician, today announced that they had decided to postpone their cross-country automobile trip to Iowa until after the resurrection Day auto races to be staged here next Saturday.
"Couldn't think of leaving until we knew who had copped the bacon in the 25 miles junk race," declared Collins.

Final reservations were being made today with T. P. McKee, Santa Ana "Y" secretary, for the for-ign work dinner tonight at the Spurgeon Memorial church at which Alvah Miller, lecturer on Indian affairs, is scheduled as speaker.
Miller, McKee said, spent sixteen years in India, as foreign work "Y" secretary at Lahore, the capital of Punjab.

A board of directors' meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held tomorrow at 8:30 a.m.

A travolgue of "Yellowstone National Park" will be given at St.
Ann's Inn Thursday evening. The affair will be open to the public.

W. S. Decker, building inspector, was deep in his books today preparing the April report of building operations in Santa Ana as shown by building permits issued during the month. "Another day added to the month would have established the record of $750,000 in buildings for the month as represented by permits issued," Decker said. "The contract for the new junior high school, I understand, was signed today. That permit, covering more than $10,000, would have carried the total for the month to $800,000.
The total for the year at the close of April stood at 565 permits for $1,666,931 in buildings."

G. A. R. ASKS LEGION TO TAKE CHARGE OF ACTIVITIES MAY 30

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1.—The fast thinning ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic will yield to the younger veterans of the American Legion in observing Memorial Day soon. Colonel John McElroy, editor of the National Tribune, organ of the G. A. R., has appealed to the legion men to assume that duty. He said:

"If it isn't to be given entirely to baseball, horse-racing and dice fights, the younger generation must carry on. I would like to see a community of interest for the purpose of perpetuating Memorial Day in accord with its original traditions."

Japanese Trade Is Sought By Russia

TOKIO, May 1.—Russia has formally requested resumption of negotiations for recognition and a trade agreement with Japan.

M. Joffe, soviet envoy, submitted the formal request, which is in a conciliatory tone.

Joffe said that his government was willing to assume responsibility for the massacre of Japanese at Nikolaevsk—one of the points upon which the original negotiations broke up.

It was considered here that Japan may grant the request for resumption of negotiations, but possibility of reaching an agreement was looked upon as decidedly uncertain.

SAYS ALLENRHU SURELY CONQUERS RHEUMATISM

Winchester, Ky., Citizen Cheerfully Recommends This Wonderful Remedy to All Sufferers.

His letter follows: "Burns Avenue, Winchester, Ky. I had severe rheumatism for three months; tried several remedies without receiving any benefit whatever. A friend advised me to try ALLENRHU as it had cured him. I bought three bottles from the George Drug Co. of this city. When I began taking this medicine I was unable to do any work. I could neither dress myself nor raise my hand to comb my hair. I am now almost well and feel confident this last of the three bottles I am now taking will completely cure me. I can cheerfully recommend this truly wonderful remedy to any rheumatic sufferer. Signed Asa E. Keer."

ALLENRHU has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of ALLENRHU, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless ALLENRHU decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee the first pint bottle to show appreciable results or money back in every instance. C. S. Kelly Drug Store will supply you—Adv.

"Unless I am badly mistaken," said Bisby, "Santa Ana is going to be called upon to entertain the greatest crowd in the history of the city. Let's get ready. Decorate your homes and shops, co-operate with the various committees and do everything possible to put this proposition over on a big scale. Delegations are coming from Los Angeles, Hollywood, Venice, Santa Monica, San Diego, Riverside, San Bernardino and from all sections of Orange County. We want to show them the time of their lives."

Next Booster Ad To Appear Thursday In Los Angeles Paper

The second advertisement in the series to be printed in a Los Angeles morning paper will appear Thursday, Everett A. White, president of the Greater Santa Ana club, stated at a meeting of the club's executive committee at St. Ann's Inn at noon today.

The background of the ad will be a full-sized map of the county illustrated with twenty-nine photographs. According to S. H. Creager, writer of the advertisement, it will be "striking, unique and startling to thousands of persons who know little of the royal kingdom of which Santa Ana is the county seat."

The committee consisting of Freeman H. Bloodgood, N. E. Berry and Horace Fine, appointed on follow-up work, today issued a call to each local resident to procure a copy of the ad, either in the paper or a reprint that will be available later, and wrap it up in a copy of one the local papers and send it to an eastern friend.

MEX, IMAN BATTLE FOR SEVENTH TIME

Big Middleweight Hook Up Again Tomorrow Night In Delhi Ring

When Jack Iman, the Santa Ana middleweight, and Kid Mexico, of Huntington Beach, crawl through the ropes at Delhi tomorrow night for their main struggle it will be at least the seventh time that the big fellows have gone into action against each other.

While other fighters, through continuous rematching, have made uninteresting bouts, the Mex-Mexon affairs all have been slam-bang mills with plenty of the blood and thunder stuff for the lustful.

Of the six bouts they have had to date, Mexico carried off three decisions and three were draws. Iman has yet to beat the beach boy but he is in the best shape of his career right now and fighting like a wild man. He should beat Mexico tomorrow because he is in good condition and because Mexico isn't.

Joe Grimm, the clever Hunting-ton Beach welterweight, tangles with the honest-to-goodness "Pinky" Mason of Seattle in the semi-windup tilt. Grimm is a good boy and entirely capable of making Mason show his real wiles to get the verdict. Mason has been a steady Hollywood fighter for the last few months.

Toby Montoya, the speedy El Modena bantam, is to fight the feature preliminary event with Babe Colima, no relation to the famous Bert, but rated as a terrific puncher for such a little guy. Montoya didn't show so much two weeks ago when he whipped little Joe Monroe but he should do better against Colima.

Danny Herrera and White Jackson go round and round at 118 pounds in the next fray on the bill. Jackson will fight the curtain raiser at Vernon tonight, which should put the odds in Herrera's favor.

Kid Hermon meets Bennie Diaz in the second engagement of the evening and Spike Brown and Joe Burns hook up in the eye-opener.

TUSTIN NINE AFTER DIAMOND GONFALON

(Special to The Register)

TUSTIN, May 1.—This afternoon the Tustin high school diamond artists will meet the Orange high school nine here in a practice game.

The game will be the final work-out before the league tilt with Whittier here next Friday afternoon.

Coach Earl Murray and all of the students are looking forward to the Poet melees as the deciding game of the county league.

"If we win the Whittier game we will win the county pennant, and I believe we can win," said Coach Murray in announcing the game to the students at the regular assembly period today.

Interest is at fever heat and the student body will turn out 100 per cent to back up the team.

Fred Miller, the long, lean twirler who has kept the opposing teams guessing so far this year, with his side-arm slants, will be on the mound for the locals. Jiles will handle his slants.

If Miller is up to his usual standard the local nine should annex the game without difficulty.

The girls' indoor baseball team will meet the Santa Ana girls in a league game at Santa Ana Thursday afternoon.

Yanks, Tigers Shift Places In Standing

NEW YORK, May 1.—With the exception of some minor changes in the standing, yesterday's major league games did not produce any big features.

In the National league the Cincinnati Reds, who are beginning to show their expected strength, jumped from fifth to third place and the Boston Braves mounted from sixth to fifth position. The Phils, who have been up around the top, dropped from third to fourth, and the floundering Pirates went down from fourth to sixth.

CHAS.F.CARLSON'S Mister Quick

In The Big Leagues

On the low end of a four to two score at the end of the fifth inning, the Yanks broke out and scored 15 runs in the last four innings, beating the Senators 17 to 4.

After pitching twenty-seven consecutive shutout innings, Coveleskie was found for two runs by the Tigers in the ninth inning, but the Indians won out 4 to 2.

Reuther's wild pitch with Frisch on third base let in the run that gave the Giants a 4 to 3 victory over the Robins.

Errors by Sheely and Esh and doubled hits in three innings enables the Browns to beat the White Sox 7 to 3.

Powell hit a Homer, a double and two singles, which helped the Braves beat the Phils 13 to 3.

Singles by Hauser and Miller and Galloway's double in the eleventh inning gave the Athletics two runs that beat the Red Sox 4 to 2.

Sensational defense by the infield pulled Rixey out of several holes and the Reds won from the Cubs 6 to 4.

DEMSEY, GIBBONS FIGHT IS ASSURED

Shelby Promoters Willing To Sign Champion At His Own Terms

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 1.—Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons are as good as matched to meet for the world's heavyweight championship in Shelby, Mont., on July 4, Jack Kearns, manager of the Tustin high school for retaining the present status.

The vote was taken after three speakers had outlined the advantages of their respective proposals. Everett White for annexation, W. C. Childers for incorporation and Prof J. W. Means of the Tustin Fire Chief Nick Gulick. The water was hot.

The stack, containing 300 tons of hay, burned.

One of the volunteer fire fighters, who was carrying a large tub of water with which to extinguish the blazing hay stack, tripped and fell into the tub, according to Tustin Fire Chief Nick Gulick. The water was hot and the man was hot.

The stack, containing 300 tons of hay, burned.

In his talk Mr. White referred to Tustin annexed to the county seat city as "the Hollywood of Santa Ana" and called to the attention of Tustin citizens the need for concerted action at once.

Childers pointed out what he said was the need for incorporation and the necessity for immediate action along the line of city planning.

Prof. Means regretted that the necessary enthusiasm was lacking on the part of the majority of the people for action to be taken either way but outlined disadvantages and advantages if either were adopted as well as the advantages of letting the matter of a city government here go over again.

Mike Collins and Ley Molomby, the two promoters, are expected in New York tomorrow and the articles will be signed "if the promoters will agree on the few minor details" that Kearns "wants straightened out."

Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, who has already signed for a reported purse of $50,000, wired this morning that the promoters were willing to grant every wish and that they would come to New York prepared to sign the champion at his own terms.

Kearns said he considered the offer of Molomby and Collins seriously from the start and that he delayed accepting the terms until he could find out if Tex Rickard or any of the New York promoters to whom he feels indebted wanted the match.

No New York promoter will be interested, he found, and he finally decided to accept the Montana offer.

From around St. Louis the tip is spreading to watch Rogers Hornsby go after some of Babe Ruth's clouting records this season. The "Rajah" hit forty-two homers last year and he maintains that he didn't try to do any specialties in driving the ball out of the yard. He has the eye and the swing and if he ever sets his mind on going after the swat records he may take them right away from the Babe.

John McGraw refuses to say that the Giants will win another pennant, because some of his boys are superstitious. He gets around any invitation of the fates to chastise him by merely saying that he has a better team than the one with which he won the National league pennants and the world's series in 1921 and 1922.

The New Orleans ball club lost a chance to get Joe Sewell, the Cleveland shortstop, because the boss of the club refused to accept an "unofficial" scout of the club saw Sewell in action on a southern college diamond and tried to tip off the New Orleans office, but he wanted to give the message on a collect basis, and the call was turned down.

Vernon Prexy Will Protest Debarring Of 2 Tiger Stars

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Edward H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League, and J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland club, have on hand when they hobnob together, was given a bit sharper edge Monday when McCarthy suspended and fined Walter Mails, Oaks pitcher. Mails was fined $50 and suspended three days for his part in the uprising against Umpire Bill Byron in the game between the Oaks and the Bees Sunday.

Those who undertook the trip were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Weise, Miss Catland, Miss Hasty, Miss Frances Powell, Mrs. Palmer, Miss Newton, Mrs. Loree Hurd, Miss Brown, Miss Ray, Miss Minnie Johnson, Mrs. Viola Newell, Miss Madeline King, Miss Hart, Miss Calvin, Calvin Lauderback, David Weir.

The two flights were completed last Saturday. The first flight now is down to the finals, where W. K. Parkinson will tangle with F. B. Browning. The second flight was won by George B. Shattuck, who disposed of George Jeffrey, and the third by J. W. Taylor who eliminated Jack Willey.

F. B. Browning was the victor in the regular Saturday sweepstakes. Browning finished the course in one up to par. W. Hoyle, F. Purinton and George Jeffrey took the next three awards.

SAN FRANCISCO—The little hatchet that President William H. McCarthy, of the Pacific Coast League, and J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland club, have on hand when they hobnob together, was given a bit sharper edge Monday when McCarthy suspended and fined Walter Mails, Oaks pitcher. At Death's Door

"Ten years of stomach trouble reduced me to a living skeleton. I had attacks of pain that doubled me up like a jack-knife and I was as yellow as a gold piece. No medicine or doctors helped me and was really at death's door. A doctor advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and I found it to be the only medicine to touch my case." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the intestinal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.—Adv.

FACULTY JOIN SENIORS AT BALBOA

TUSTIN, May 1.—Members of the senior class and a large part of the faculty of the local high school enjoyed a motor trip to Balboa last week, where they were the guests of Miss Laurene Sauer at the Sauer cottage in that city.

The evening progressed in regular house party style, while there was yet light a baseball game was indulged in, the boys against the girls, in which both claimed the victory. No official score was kept so the point is still a matter of argument.

Refreshments in the form of steak, sandwiches, pickles, beans, potato salad and several different kinds of pie, were served after which the party adjourned.

TUSTIN, May 1.—County Superintendent R. P. Mitchell and his wife, Mrs. Mitchell were guests of the grammar school faculty at their party held last Wednesday evening at Hewes park.

A delightful bonfire was kept burning throughout the evening, and after the refreshments, which consisted of tricassade chicken, hot rolls, combination salad, baked beans, pickles, olives, with brick ice cream, wafers, and coffee for dessert, the party gathered about the fire and roasted marshmallows.

A trip about the grounds was enjoyed, and after the return to the fire Prof. Weise told of his travels and experiences in the Philippines. Prof. Weise was for many years a resident of the islands.

Those who enjoyed the evening will be slides of some more of the residents of Tustin "as they were then." The freshman and sophomore contestants in the county forensic contest will give their respective reading and declamation.

EVENING SALUTATION

He who does not strive after something with eagerness, finds everything burdensome and odious.
—Lord Francis Bacon.

MR. ARMOR'S SUGGESTION

On this page today appears one of the most interesting articles yet written concerning the control of the flood waters of the Santa Ana river. It is a very important and a very distinctive contribution to the discussions that have been carried on in recent months concerning the control of the river and the conservation of water for use in the Santa Ana valley.

The article was written by Samuel Armor, a resident of Orange since the middle 70s. For many years he was a director of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company, and no one made a closer study of conditions during the early years of the development of the company and of its legal rights than did Mr. Armor. He was associated with Attorney E. E. Keech and Civil Engineer H. Clay Kellogg, than whom there was none better informed on intricate phases of the history of the river.

The article is valuable not only because it comes from a man whose life had been spent in intimate connection with the affairs of this valley, as county supervisor, water director and citizen, but because it contains a concrete suggestion for the organization of a corporation to handle the flood control question in a comprehensive way.

We must admit that in some ways we have made little advancement in flood control in the seven years that have passed since the county suffered millions of dollars in damage in the 1916 flood. The problem, however, has grown. Land within reach of possible floods is more valuable by far today than it was in 1916, and the need of conserving water is yearly becoming more apparent in every section of the Santa Ana valley.

But what's to be done? It is agreed that the menace of the river should be gotten rid of, and it is agreed that it is an economic shame that storm waters still flow into the sea when they should be stored for use on our lands.

What's to be done? Mr. Armor, at least, has given the answer that he believes is the answer. He has presented us with a concrete scheme for organization.

On the surface, the plan seems feasible. We recognize the fact that the perfection of an organization such as is outlined by Mr. Armor will take an immense amount of work, time and patience, but it may be the solution of a big problem that must be solved.

We are not prepared to take as final the findings of engineers who surveyed the river a quarter of a century ago. Engineering science has advanced considerably in that quarter of a century. But even should a suitable reservoir site be found, some kind of an organization will be necessary to carry a reservoir project through.

Is the plan of organization outlined by Mr. Armor feasible for controlling the Santa Ana river and for saving its flood waters?

And if it is not feasible, who has a better plan to suggest?

WANTED—ROBINSON CRUSOES

Three years ago a couple of Australian flyers in the British service flew all the way home from London to show they could do it, and incidentally to win a big cash prize. Now other British flyers, Englishmen, are planning really to fly around the world, and they advertise for Crusoes.

The brothers Smith, on their flight from London to Melbourne, were for the most part following a route through lands comparatively civilized, or over island-dotted seas where creature comforts and supplies were easily obtained. The men who plan this new aerial journey have no such luck, and they must plan all these things beforehand. It is because of this that they advertise for Crusoes, men willing to spend some weeks or months marooned on Aleutian or Kurile islands, guarding gasoline, food and ammunition dumps.

The proposed route from London is by way of Egypt, the Holy Land, India, the Straits Settlements, Japan, the Kuriles and the Aleutians to Alaska, and thence across Canada to Newfoundland, Greenland and Iceland. Whenever it leaves the limits of what may be called civilization, there must be landing places and adequate caches of supplies. A single man, armed and very much dependent upon himself, must guard each of these stations, and wait in loneliness till the flyers have passed and the steam yacht which follows them comes to pick them up.

It is a fascinating prospect, this of a windy island in a sub-arctic sea, of interminable waiting (for such flights are never made on schedule) and of no glory at all.

The promoters, who are to be the flyers, speak cheerily of Robinson Crusoe and Ben Gunn, and forget the climate of the North Pacific and Bering Sea. They will get their men, of course, without difficulty. We only hope that the men are able to tell their story once they are home again.

SOUND YOUNG FARMERS

It is estimated that nearly three-quarters of a million dollars in farm products will be added to the food crop of a single state this year through the educational farm work done in the children's farm clubs. Dairy products and live stock alone will pass the half-million mark, while canned goods and clothing made under the supervision of the agricultural extension department will make up the grand total. The banks in this state are so persuaded of the soundness of the young farmers that they have lent $25,000 to the various clubs to finance the purchase of livestock. The loans will be repaid at the end of the season.

As every state has its clubs the importance of this work to American agriculture should not be belittled. This is especially true since aside from the immediate gain of the year, most of these young enthusiasts will take up some form of agricultural work permanently, and they are being trained to perform it efficiently and easily when they do.

STUFFED MAIL BOXES

Advertising is good business, and the nation could ill spare it, but very often advertising matter is an unmitigated nuisance. Too much of it is wrapped around door knobs, flung on front steps or thrust into mail boxes by house-to-house distributors. Still more of it blows across otherwise clean lawns.

Various cities have recently been putting in mailboxes, everywhere, at the demand of the postal authorities, and as a result the advertisers hire distributing agencies have had the time of their lives stuffing boxes designed for firstclass mail. Now the government steps in, not in defense of householders but to protect the postal service, and the postal inspector wants the police to arrest anyone caught putting a handbill of any kind into one of these receptacles.

It will be a popular ruling.

Capital In California

Long Beach Press.

Whatever the other effects of direct legislation and various "radical reforms" which agitated timid investors in California a dozen years ago, it can not be claimed that capital has been driven from the state, or that financiers look askance upon western securities.

In one year, according to reports of the internal revenue department, the gross incomes of California corporations totalled $4,196,000,000, and their net income was $283,000,000, which is greater than the combined total returned by the corporations of twelve other western states.

These figures speak of industrial and commercial activity in California, and of the general prosperity which prevails here. They are confirmed by the statement that the sales of documentary stamps, which are used on transfers and conveyances, exceeded $1,000,000 for the year. The stamp sales for the ten counties of Southern California were within $225,000 of the sales for the San Francisco district, which comprised forty-eight counties. Los Angeles district returns were surpassed only by the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Illinois.

These and other official statistics place Southern California in its proper classification, ranking with the great business centers of the United States. When it is considered, furthermore, that this southwestern district is in the infancy of its development, that its marvelous resources are only touched, and that its assets are increasing each year in number and in value, one can only ask what the future will bring to this favored section of America. The answer must await the course of time.

One is given an understanding, also, of the friendly interest which capital expresses toward California.

To Boost The Border

Stockton Independent.

Prominent citizens of San Diego, Cal., are anxious to see the cities along the Mexican border organize for mutual prosperity. It is not the first time such a scheme has been suggested, but it is hoped that this time there will be the right kind of co-operation to get the movement really under way.

The developing highways, the stimulation of commerce and business, the establishment of better systems of immigration from south of the border, better customs regulations and a host of other mutual interests could be promoted. Here is what the Douglas, Ariz., "Dispatch" thinks of such a plan:

"The ideal situation would be to unite every civic organization on the Mexican border between El Paso and San Diego in a single-minded effort to boost the border region. There should be no question of rivalry among the towns and cities concerned, inasmuch as there is such a vast territory to the south that no city can hope to monopolize all the advantages to be derived from it. Furthermore, the connection of the border cities by a first-class highway, which is nearer realization today than ever before, gives every community concerned something in common with every other community and furnishes an additional incentive to work together for a common object."

These are encouraging signs of progress and development in a region rich in possibilities. It is only through co-operation that these possibilities can be developed fully. It is to be hoped that the border boosters will meet with enthusiasm all along the line.

The President's Stand

Pasadena Star-News.

An important battle line of the 1924 Presidential contest has been laid down by President Harding. His speech before Associated Press members, in New York, is the most stirring deliverance which has come from Mr. Harding since he entered the presidency. It bids fair to be almost epochal in the history of political parties. What its effect will be upon Mr. Harding's own party remains to be seen.

The question of entrance or non-entrance of the United States into the Permanent Court of International Justice is sure to be an issue in 1924. In the months that are to intervene before the national political conventions meet, the attitude of the respective parties will be crystallized. Meanwhile Mr. Harding is to strive for commitment of the Republican party to adhesion to the World Court.

In this latest important speech Mr. Harding strikes a more virile, more advanced attitude than he has taken on any question in his public career. In perusing Mr. Harding's words, one harks back in memory to the deliverances of Grover Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt and finds resemblance in trenchancy of style and boldness of expressed conviction. This speech marks an important milestone in the political life of Warren G. Harding.

Frowns on Marathons

San Bernardino Telegram.

Los Angeles is to be congratulated upon the official announcement from its police commissioner that there will be no long-distance dancing for records in that city. Of all the nonsense possible in a world that has made a cult out of jazz, that of endurance dancing is probably the greatest. It serves no useful purpose, except to demonstrate the foolishness of which mankind is capable.

The quality of the performance suggests it should have an irresistible appeal in Los Angeles where piffle is elevated to the dignity of a profession, and the stern self-restraint of that city is therefore the most remarkable. However one shudders to think what would have happened in Los Angeles had somebody in that city thought up the endurance dancing nonsense before it wore itself out elsewhere—San Bernardino Telegram.

A Lift for Indian Music

Stockton Independent.

Research work on the music of the American Indian is to have another lift. A committee assigned to this work has been added to the general music committee of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Eugene Lawson of Nowata, Okla., herself of Indian blood, is chairman of the committee. In addition to research work on its own part, the Federation committee will co-operate with the efforts of the Smithsonian Institution in obtaining records of the authentic Indian melodies.

It took a good while for America to awake to the fact that it had in the chants of the Indian a native music as rare, colorful and full of interest as that of any race or country. It is a field far from fully covered even yet. The effort on the part of the Federation to promote this work is one more evidence of the breadth of vision which the American club women are bringing to their club work, and the wide variety of interests through which they enrich their own lives and that of the nation.

The measure introduced by Senators Bennett and Rominger to supplant the Legislature with a body of fifty men, elected for four years each and receiving $5,000 a year, is a good one. The cost will be less than at present and better considered legislation will be had—in the unlikely event of the passage of the amendment.—Redlands Facts.

Hours With Nature

WILLIAM A. QUAYLE in "In God's Out-of-Doors."

I made my leisure journey. Naught troubled me or hastened me. The time was God's and summer's and mine.

I stopped at every pastoral and green inquisitive at every stop. Something enticed me everywhere. Three hours I had, though I could use three days.

One can not have too much leisure with Nature. She is coy like a hermit thrush, so that those who hasten may not know her; but I sped leisurely.

Most plants along the road I knew, some I had not seen, or speaking exactly, one, and that made me glad, because it is so good to make a new friend among the flowers. One's life is infinitely enriched thereby. To meet old friends in flowers or folk is delightful, and meeting new folk and flowers has a tang of gladness also.

One new friend among birds or flowers, or gentle green among the leaves—what think you of that, my heart?

One white flower I met this day I had not met before, and the memory of its dainty beauty lingers caressingly. Five-petaled, pure white as a blackberry blossom, growing low on the earth beckoning the wind, sheltered by the grasses, sometimes a few feet of ground would be star-white with them, sometimes one bloom so solitary like a forgotten life some one had died and left, but whether in common or in groups, the flower was dainty, fair, and left a gentle memory to my heart.

SHADOWS

The beautiful stretch of landscape,

The wall with its traceray fair,

Could show no gleam 'neath bright sunbeams,

Were there no shadows there

The cloud with its silver lining,

The glint in the sunset sky,

Could give no thrill or awe instill,

Were there no shadows nigh.

The life that is filled with richness

Could never reach the height,

Nor e'er could know hope's brightest glow,

But for the depths of night.

—Robin A. Walker, in Kansas City Star.

OVERTIME.

A provincial man's reminiscence of an address made to some budding juveniles in the city by a member of the board of trustees: "My youthful friends," remarked the speaker, "let me urge you to the necessity of not only reading good books, but also of owning them, so that you may have access to them at all times.

"Why, do you know, when I was a young man, I used frequently to work all night to earn money in order to purchase books, and then get up before daylight to read them."—London Weekly Telegraph.

any consideration for what was being done by other communities along the same line. As might have been expected, this independent action caused conflict over the irrigation water and failed to get the best results from the protection against floods.

The river, having no official channel, made its way during high water over private property whenever the resistance was the least.

During periods of light rainfall the owners of the land would forget about the floods, would grub out the willows along the putative banks and cultivate to the very edge of where the water previously ran.

Then, when the rains came down, as they did in 1862, 1867, 1884, 1916, and to a less extent in some other years, the floods would sweep over the low banks of loose sand and even between fairly good dikes of the different districts which were not connected all the way to the mouth of the canyon.

Why, in 1916, it rained more or less on twenty days out of the thirty-one in January, though not all consecutively, and precipitated twelve inches of rainfall on the lower course of the river within the month!
